

DECLARE ACTION TO BE MALICIOUS

Answer in Wall-Utah Copper
Case Makes Denial of Allegations.

An answer was filed in the district court Tuesday by the Utah Copper company and D. C. Jackling to the $6,000,000 damage suit brought against them by Col. E. A. Wall for the value of ores alleged to have been taken from the Amanda lode mining claim at Bingham by the Utah Copper company.

The defendants admit that Colonel Wall owns the Amanda claim, but deny that its boundaries are correctly set forth in his complaint. They deny that they have wrongfully or otherwise taken ores from the Amanda lode of the value of $6,000,000 or of any value whatever, or that they have taken ores from that claim.

They allege that the allegations in Colonel Wall's complaint were made wilfully and maliciously for the purpose of injuring the standing of the Utah Copper company and Mr. Jackling and their property in the mining world. It is asked that Colonel Wall take nothing by his complaint and that it be dismissed.

WILSON IS SENTENCED TO FIVE YEARS IN PRISON

George X. Wilson appeared before Judge Lewis of the criminal division of the district court Tuesday afternoon and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of grand larceny and was sentenced by the court to five years in the state prison. Wilson broke into the home of Wallace Bransford on March 24 last and stole jewelry, money and other property of the total value of $140.

CHINESE CONVICTED OF SELLING MINORS LIQUOR

Woo Joe, a Chinese waiter, found guilty in Justice F. M. Bishop's court Tuesday afternoon of selling liquor to minors in the Empire cafe on State street, will be sentenced Wednesday.

This is the case which is said to have been the direct cause of the arrest of George Jepson on the charge of impersonating an officer.

Jepson is said to have gone to the homes of the minors, to whom liquor had been sold in the restaurant, and represented himself as an officer in order to get statements that might help the cause of the defense.

THREE ARE ADJUDGED BANKRUPTS IN COURT

Adelia Brandwin, former proprietress of the Brandwin millinery parlors, was adjudged a bankrupt in the United States court Tuesday morning. Hans A. Olsen, a carpenter of Salt Lake, and George Vance, a fireman of Weber county, were also adjudged bankrupts.

W. A. Ziegler of Salt Lake City filed in application in the United States court Tuesday to be adjudged a bankrupt. He gave his liabilities as $552.73 and his assets at $153.50.

University Notes

The election of officers for the student body for next year will be held Wednesday at the university. The polls will be open from 9 o'clock until 5, during which time every student of college standing will be permitted to cast a vote. This year the old method of using the Australian ballot will be used, owing to the difficulty experienced by some of the students in using the voting machine, as was done last year. The men who will be voted on are Ben Howells, Henry Richardson, for president; Margaret Wilson, Maud Riter, vice president; Bill Woolf, Claude Cornwall, treasurer; Margaret Parsons, Lloyd Harrison, editor of Chronicle; "Tiny" Home, Ed Horvath, Hazel Edwards, athletic representatives; Thomas Stokes, Rees Howell, debating manager; R. H. Braden, R. E. Ketchum, faculty representative to athletic council.

The freshmen held a class election Tuesday afternoon for the election of officers for next year. Those chosen were: Sumner, president; Snow, vice president; Miss McCann, secretary; Stone, treasurer; Holmstead, athletic manager; Williams, Debating, Miss Hull, Miss Herlinger and Frank Cameron, members of executive committee.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the student body held Tuesday, Hugo E. Anderson, Worton, Loren Whitmore, and Miss Jeanne Williams, were appointed judges of the election to be held Wednesday.

STOLEN PROPERTY FOUND IN SUSPICIOUS PACKAGE

When Joe Bennett, 23 years of age, started to run when Patrolman J. A. Egbert demanded to be shown the contents of a large package he was carrying, the suspicions of the officer that everything was not right were confirmed. He followed the young man three blocks, and arrested him on suspicion at First and South streets.

At the police station the package which Bennett carried was found to contain a dozen pairs of calf skin gloves. Bennett says he won them in a lottery, but he will be held pending an investigation.

Settled Out of Court.

A judgment by stipulation in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Mary E. Osborne and her three minor children against the Utah Copper company for $446 was rendered in the district court Tuesday. The action was brought to recover damages of $10,000 for the death of Benjamin Osborne, the husband and father of plaintiffs, who was killed at the Utah Copper mill at Garfield on February 12 last. A settlement was reached and $446 was paid to the plaintiffs by the company according to the stipulation.

IN POLICE COURT

James Harner, a former restaurant proprietor of this city, was arraigned in the criminal division of the city court Tuesday afternoon before Judge J. M. Bowman on the charge of petty larceny. By his attorney, he waived the reading of the complaint and entered a plea of guilty. Passing of sentence was set for May 10.

From the story told by the attorney, young Harner was formerly proprietor of a Main street restaurant but was unable to make the business pay and lost between $300 and $500 in the venture. Following his failure in the business, he "got down on his luck" and finally took the bicycle of a friend and pawned it at a West Texas street and hand store. The attorney said that Harner comes of a well-known Virginia family from an estate with which he could settle all his debts.

The court was inclined to be lenient in the matter following the recital of the story of ill luck, and said that he would let the defendant go on probation if the $6 obtained for the bicycle were paid back and the young man shows a disposition to lead an upright life during the next thirty days. It will all be taken into consideration when he comes up for sentence on May 10. If everything is as the factory at that time, the court intimated the case will likely be dismissed.

S. H. Price, C. F. Carter and Eli Price were arraigned before Judge J. M. Bowman in the criminal division of the city court Tuesday afternoon on the charge of cruelty to animals. The complaints in the three cases allege that the defendants drove horses that were crippled and unfit to work. After hearing the evidence in the cases of the first two defendants, the charge against Carter was dismissed and the hearing of White's case was continued until Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The case against Price was continued to April 28, in order to give the defendant an opportunity to get witnesses.

Charles Jones, who was arrested in Ogden on suspicion a few days ago and who was found to have in his possession goods stolen from the Crabbe Hardware store in Salt Lake, appeared before Judge Bowman Tuesday and his hearing was set for today.

James Hyman and Pat Mulligan, arrested several weeks ago on the charge of entering the home of Mrs. G. Creamer and stealing a suit of clothes, were arraigned Tuesday morning in police court on the charge of burglary in the preliminary examination. The defendants waived the reading of the complaint and entered a plea of not guilty. The case was ordered held to await the action of the district court. In default of $1000 bonds each they were committed to the county jail for safe keeping.

New Incorporations

Burt & Carlquist of this city filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk on Tuesday. The company is capitalized at $10,000, divided into shares of the par value of $10 each. J. A. Burt is president; C. H. Carlquist, vice president and treasurer; E. S. Rich, secretary. These are also directors. The company takes over the real estate business and property of Burt & Carlquist.

Ship-brake That May Prevent Many Disasters at Sea

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Navy officers and marine engineers are exhibiting much interest in a test that is to be made early next week in the Delaware bay, in rough seas, of a new ship-brake. The device is to be tried out on the battleship Indiana. The brake has already been attached to the ship at the League Island yard.

The device is the invention of a Canadian and engineer, the late Louis Carost of Montreal, son of a former chief justice of Canada. A number of prominent Canadians, headed by U. H. Dandurand, as president, are behind the invention, and John A. Stewart of New York is at the head of the company which controls the rights to the invention in the United States. The test will be made in the presence of a board of experts from the navy department, the Canadian owners and a limited number of invited guests. The ship will probably go to sea Monday or Tuesday, and two or three days will be occupied with the test.

The device consists of a pair of wings or blades, hinged to the vessel's sides and held in their normal closed position by locking bars, that are released through mechanism controlled from the bridge. These bars are equipped with means that give to the wings their initial opening movement when the bars are unlocked, and from this position the wings open automatically, through the movement of the ship, and when they have attained their full open position, are braced so that they exert such resistance to the water as to retard the vessel's progress, and it is claimed by the inventors that the average ship going at the ordinary rate of speed can be brought to a full stop within the distance of her length.

The inventors claim that they can stop a ship without jarring unnecessarily or inconveniencing passengers or crew by the sudden check. It is claimed in behalf of the invention that the attachment of the wings to the vessel's sides does not result in the sacrifice of any speed. It is said the appliance is adaptable to any ship now in commission. The purpose of the brake is to prevent collisions at sea and to make it possible to maneuver vessels of war in battle within a small radius.

President Roosevelt was primarily responsible for affording the inventors the opportunity for the test. He became interested in the device after its main points were disclosed to him by the Canadian officers of the company, and ordered the secretary of the navy to give the brake a test, provided the owners of it would pay for the expense of attaching it to the Indiana and give a bond to the government to indemnify against possible damage resulting from the attachment of the brake, or accident while operating it.

HORSE WRECKS CAR, THEN CAUSES MORE TROUBLE

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 19.—Having wrecked a trolley car, smashed a wagon into splinters, injured five men and held up a Big Four train, a horse ended its spectacular career here last night by being killed with a pick and buried in the Mad river.

The horse was originally attached to the wagon in which were seated five men. It started on its spree by backing the wagon into a traction car, one side of which it demolished. It then kicked the wagon to pieces and distributed its five occupants in various parts of the road, two of them being seriously hurt.

Freud of the wagon, the horse dashed along the railroad trestle, where it fell with a broken leg in front of an incoming train. The train was stopped and the horse dispatched with a pick, the only means available. The whole train crew was then called into action, and hurled the body into the Mad river.

Rehearing Granted.
WASHINGTON, April 19.—A rehearing has been granted by the supreme court of the United States in the Grimaud and India cases of California, involving the question whether it is a criminal offense against the government to graze sheep on a forest reserve without permission. The government asked for the rehearing, the decision of the lower court that it was not an offense having been affirmed by the supreme court a few weeks ago.

DID YOU SMILE WHEN YOU PAID

When you obtained accommodation at the bank, when you borrowed money from your friend, did you pay? Did you pay when you promised, with a thankful expression on your face or did you pay in dribs, with a frown and a snarl? There are many ways of paying. Some insist on paying the day it is due; others wait for you to ask; others are insulted if you send the bill, though you need the money now; some take pride in paying in little dribs and drabs, seeing how long they can make you wait. How do YOU pay?

The printer is printing the Rating Book. Shall it show the smile of willingness or the frown of discontent?
